TITLE

Interactive training package

ARTICLE

Tarmac Central has developed an interactive computer-based training package which addresses the typical hazards that personnel working on a concrete or mortar depot may be exposed to. The training package is supplied on CD to run on any PC or laptop and contains a video introduction outlining the principles of the programme.

The candidate identifies hazards by clicking the mouse over the identified area. A score section allows a printable evaluation of the candidate™s performance (including hazards identified), and is linked to a final certification upon successful completion of the programme.
